ABOUT SAM PAINTINGS

Under the name SAM Paintings the Dutch painter Simone van der Meeren creates figurative oil paintings. Her style in these is realistic and magical realistic. Already through out her youth Simone developed a great passion for drawing and painting. Over the years she has further developed this by experimenting with different subjects.

The eloquent motto of Simone is a day not painted is a day wasted. This also means that she is often trying to get ideas in nature. To actually see and observe the colour palette of the world. She then also makes pictures of things that touch her and writes short stories which come along with her paintings. The stories and dreams to be read in the clouds discovered and translated into a suitable composition. Simple things like getting happy from the sun and dreamy by the moon simply reflect her inspiration.

In all of this it is her intention to “ touch” the viewer and to make he or she to look again, to see more, to explore, to smile, to wonder. One is invited to make his or her own interpretation.
