

Finy Kohnen-Heijenrath

She is born in the hilly village Vijlen, near Vaals (Limburg)
The nature has always been her most important source of inspiration.
She likes the landscape. Since her childhood she is in front of drawing.
That was also the basis that she took the chance to take part of a drawing course, when she was a teenager.

Later, when the children were young, she started with making clothes for her husband, children and for herself.
She also drew patterns and designed clothes and all kind of accessories, also living- and several other accessories.
All by all she has over twenty years been busy with clothes and related things.
Several years ago she started with her greatest passion, watercolors painting.
Her favorite is making watercolors from realistic landscapes and picturesque spots. She is autodidact.
