

Jaana Anheden (born 1963)

I am born in Valkeakoski, Finland 1963 and I was 6-years when my family moved to Sweden. In 1985 I moved to Skåne, the south of Sweden and I am still living here.

I have always been painting and as a teenager I went to eveningclasses in sketching and oilpainting. Then I lost the inspiration until 2010, when I start to paint with watercolor. Year 2011 I went for a 1-year education in painting, at Malmfältens Folkhögskola in Umeå. After the year in school I get more inspiration and driven to experiment with colors and technique to find my own style. So today I use both watercolor, acryl and gouache in my paintings. I get insperied mostly by the senses of words and that is what I am trying to transfer to a painting.

I am a member of Svenska Konstnärsförbundet and President of Skurups Konst och hantverks förening, art and craft association in Skurup, Sweden.
